EXAMPLE 01 / DEMONSTRATION

Clean up a spreadsheet

Duplicate rows, inconsistent dates and missing values make a list hard to use. Here is what changes after cleanup.

BEFORE

12 rows in the source file.

Two rows are exact duplicates.

Dates use different formats.

One price is missing and some dates are unclear.

AFTER

10 rows in the finished file.

Clear dates use a consistent format.

Three uncertain values are flagged.

Real zero quantities are kept.

What you receive

The cleaned spreadsheet, the unchanged source and a short list of changes and questions. Uncertain records remain visible for review.

Example quote: US$15

An agreed small task: up to 500 rows and 10 columns. One correction within the agreed scope is included. The exact price, deadline and payment method are agreed after reviewing a sample.

This summarizes the first Excel example in the portfolio: 12 source rows, 10 cleaned rows and 3 values to review.

EXAMPLE 02 / DEMONSTRATION

Product descriptions

Turn a few product facts into a clear listing. Demonstration: a fictional desk organizer.

SOURCE FACTS

Desk organizer for pens and small items; bamboo; 5 compartments; 22 x 10 x 8 cm; natural color; stationery is not included.

Ready-to-use listing copy

Bamboo Desk Organizer, 5 Compartments

Keep pens and small stationery items in five separate compartments. The organizer is made from bamboo in a natural color.

Material: bamboo.

Dimensions: 22 x 10 x 8 cm.

Compartments: 5.

Stationery is not included.

What you receive

A title, short description and specifications you can use in a product listing. All features come from the supplied facts. The scope and price of writing work are agreed separately.

Clear instructions

Help a customer understand the next step. Demonstration: how to send a spreadsheet sample for a quote.

BEFORE

Send part of the spreadsheet and say what needs fixing. Replace personal data. We also need an example of the result, the format and the deadline. Make a copy first.

AFTER / How to send a sample

1. Make a copy of your file.

Keep the original spreadsheet.

2. Include 10-20 sample rows.

Choose rows that show the problems.

3. Replace personal information.

For example, use Customer 1 for a name and Company A for a company.

4. Explain what needs fixing.

For example: remove exact duplicates and use a consistent date format.

5. Show one example of the result.

This makes the layout you want clear.

6. State the file format and preferred deadline.

Send the sample through the agreed conversation.

Use an anonymized sample for the quote. Arrange the full working file and private delivery channel separately. The price of preparing a guide depends on its scope.
